In a small town near Poreč, there is a stone villa with an area of 141 m². It consists of a ground floor and an upper floor and is situated in a landscaped garden covering 628 m².

On the ground floor, there is an entrance hallway, a kitchen with a dining area, a living room with a fireplace connection, a toilet, storage/technical rooms, and a bedroom with an en-suite bathroom. Internal stairs lead to the upper floor where there are two bedrooms, each with its own bathroom, and a shared terrace with a view of nature.

The floors are made of high-quality ceramics, while the bedrooms feature bamboo flooring. Underfloor heating is installed in all rooms except the bedrooms, and all areas are air-conditioned. Solar panels are connected to a 250-liter boiler.
