and surroundings, and its own spacious bathroom.

In the auxiliary building, there is a fully equipped studio with a living room and kitchen, a toilet, and a boiler room.

Overall, the house has four bedrooms and five bathrooms. All rooms are air-conditioned, and heating is provided through underfloor heating and a heat pump for heating sanitary water and the pool. The windows are equipped with triple glazing (four seasons), and all exterior surfaces have waterproofing.

The yard is landscaped and fenced, featuring a pool and an automatic irrigation system (sprinklers and drip irrigation). There is also an outdoor stone kitchen with a pizza oven and a covered dining area, as well as additional outdoor storage.

The house has a ventilated roof with 25 cm thick stone wool insulation, 10 cm wall insulation with a demit façade, security doors, plastic-coated gutters, and a remote-controlled gate.
