In the vicinity of Karojba, in the heart of a small settlement located just 25 kilometers from Poreč and the sea, an old traditional house for renovation is for sale, along with two additional buildings on a total land area of 545 m².

The property includes a stone house with an area of approximately 110 m², spread over two levels. The ground floor is about 65 m², while the upper floor is approximately 45 m². The main building features a reinforced concrete slab on the upper floor, as well as a staircase. There is a certificate confirming that the house was built before 1968.

In addition to the main building, the property includes an additional structure of about 30 m² and another smaller building of 7.5 m².

The buildings require complete reconstruction. The first phase for electricity has been paid.

The house is oriented to the south, and the land offers the possibility to arrange a garden and build a pool.
