Located near Poreč, this attractive semi-detached house has a total area of 174.80 m², designed across three functional levels that provide comfort and flexibility of use.

The entrance level offers a practical layout – a hallway, a guest toilet, and a bedroom with an en-suite bathroom and access to the yard. The central part of the home features a spacious open-concept living area with a kitchen and dining room. Thanks to large glass surfaces, the interior is extremely bright and pleasant, while also being directly connected to the outdoor area of the house.

On the upper floor, there are three bedrooms and an additional bathroom. One of the bedrooms has its own bathroom, and the hallway leads to a balcony that further enriches the space with natural light.

The top floor, or high attic, is arranged as a spacious multifunctional area with a bathroom. It can serve as an additional living room, workspace, or bedroom, and its value is enhanced by access to a large terrace ideal for relaxation.

The property includes three parking spaces, which adds to its
